

SecurityMetrics' Services Over 100,000 PCI Compliance Calls Each Month

PCI DSS Programs Accelerate Mass Merchant Compliance Levels

LAS VEGAS, NV – APRIL 22, 2009 – (ETA ANNUAL MEETING AND EXPO, BOOTH #821) –

SecurityMetrics, a world leader in PCI security, today revealed that they service over One Hundred Thousand (100,000) retail merchant calls each month, counseling merchants worldwide on achieving PCI compliance. SecurityMetrics' PCI Site Certification Services for Merchants provides bank acquirers and ISOs (Independent Sales Organization) with a scalable program to accelerate PCI compliance among their strategic accounts and merchant portfolios.

SecurityMetrics' PCI programs give merchants simplified systems and free personalized technical assistance so that retail merchants, with little to no IT security experience can quickly and easily validate and report their PCI compliance status according to the Payment Card Industry (PCI) Data Security Standard (DSS).

"Consumers rely on retailers to secure their credit card information," said Brad Caldwell, CEO of SecurityMetrics. "As one of the first companies in the industry to deploy a successful mass merchant PCI program, we now have acquiring bank and ISO customers realize more than 90% enrollment levels across their merchant portfolio. Our programs personally assist small business owners with little to no security backgrounds and scale to accommodate multi-national corporations that generate millions of transactions annually. All SecurityMetrics' security programs have one goal in mind: to simplify and accelerate PCI DSS compliance and ensure sensitive credit card information is secure."

SecurityMetrics' security teams provide merchants with the expertise to determine how to approach PCI DSS validation. During each step of the process, SecurityMetrics' experts are a phone call away to provide live, customized support for each of the key steps merchants need to validate their compliance with PCI. SecurityMetrics educates merchants regarding PCI requirements, helps merchants scope their credit card environment, guides them through completion of the PCI self-assessment questionnaire (SAQ) via live telephone support or online videos, and provides technical assistance for interpreting PCI scans.

SecurityMetrics' PCI Site Certification Services for Merchants simplify PCI compliance for some of the world's leading acquiring banks and ISOs. SecurityMetrics' compliance service programs include unlimited live technical support 24 x 7, unlimited manual scanning and vulnerability assessments, weekly reminders and access to advanced security consulting services. SecurityMetrics' security team provides forensics investigations, penetration testing, vulnerability assessments, security audits and other PCI-related security services.
